Internship in Sports Event Management for the only Startup Conference on Skis in Austria!

The Skinnovation team is looking for motivated interns from October to March who are excited to help organize a truly unique event in the Austrian Alps. The internship period is flexible and can be individually adjusted, but the latest possible start date is December, with the event ending in March.

Who are we?

Skinnovation is a young and dynamic team composed of dedicated students and experienced event professionals. We organize a unique innovation event in Innsbruck, held directly in a ski resort. During the event, participants are on skis or snowboards, experience talks in cozy ski huts, and take part in a pitch competition in a gondola. The event takes place from March 26th to 28th and will attract around 1000 creative minds and innovation enthusiasts. For more information about the event, visit our website: skinnovation.io.

Your Tasks:

We are looking for support in various areas. As a small team, new tasks are constantly popping up, which is typical in the event industry. Feel free to let us know in your application which area interests you the most.
